Customer Reviews

I usually don't write reviews but I felt I needed to on this. Those of you who are living with Lupus or know somebody who is, you know the hell they go thru. (And that's putting it mildly.) My extremely athletic, martial art champion, over all healthy, 14 year old daughter was just diagnosed with (SLE) Lupus. Released from Children's Hospital after a 2 month stay in ICU just this past February 2017, we came home doing everything we possibly could to educate ourselves. Unfortunately, as you all know, Lupus is temperamental & has a mind of its own. Everyday is different. On top of that, my daughter is going thru a wide variety of emotions that have been tough for her to understand or really discuss. I came across this online during one of many sleepless nights reading about anything regarding Lupus. I ordered it with no expectations. Wasn't even sure if she would pick it up. I'm so glad I did!!! My daughter has not only been able to keep track of things from day to day, (how she felt, what she ate, activities, sleeping patterns, medicine side effects etc) she's been able to have a private outlet that helps get all her personal thoughts & feelings out without worry. She has me ordering another one today. I suggested something else, thinking maybe it was just a journal she needed. But she absolutely insisted on this book. She said she loved everything about it & she wanted to continue improving the mental release it has given. She also likes how she can take it to refer back to during appointments when the doctor asks about things she can't remember. Before it was a rough "guesstimate." With this, she's able to give exact dates & details which helps the doctors better treat her diagnosis. Its been a tremendous help for her & I hope it can help you or your loved one on this long journey ahead. My thoughts & prayers go out to all of those families that are having to live with the negative effects lupus causes. Please stay strong & know you're never alone.
