Customer Reviews

Seventy-four viewing sites from the rugged beauty of the Chihuahuan Desert to the windswept alpine heights of the Pecos Wilderness. Included are detailed descriptions of each viewing site and its wildlife, maps and access information, helpful viewing tips, and more than 40 color photographs featuring the wildlife and natural areas of New Mexico, the Land of Enchantment.

Great photographs! There are all color photos in this book, of different animals and places in the Land of Enchantment. On page 9, there is a pronghorn. These animals have been clocked at 60 mph! There is a portrait of Shiprock on page 18. It is more than 1,500 feet tall! Page 102 shows you the state bird of New Mexico--the roadrunner. There is even a Gila Monster in the book--on page 101. It is one of only two poisonous lizards. I seriously recommend this book to any nature enthusiast out there.

Even though a bit out of date ... very useful for our 4 weeks in New Mexico
